RICHLANDS.

Last April we began to advertise our town lots, making at that time a number of statements in regard to what we would do. Through the non-completion of the Clinch Valley extension of the Norfolk and Western our railroad facilities at that time were very limited. We had no railroad station and, indeed, one old farmhouse was the total sign of life about the place. Since then the railroad has erected a fine brick and stone freight station, one of the largest on the road, and will shortly erect a fine passenger station, while the Clinch Valley Company has spent, or is under contract to expend, $350,000. A four-story hotel, the finest in Southwest Virginia, is under roof; a handsome iron bridge, of 180 feet span, crosses the Clinch river; two second-class hotels have been built, and a large number of stores are building under contract. The company has erected a handsome three-story building for its offices, and a fine stone bank building is nearing completion. Machinery for the rolling mill is on the grounds, and the track to the coal mines, three miles away, is completed, and coal is now coming out. A steam brick plant, the most complete in Southwest Virginia, is in operation, and a large amount of grading and other work is going on. This work attracts a great deal of attention, while Richlands is merely at the end of a non-completed line. The completion of the Clinch Valley division this fall, and the running of through trains between Washington and Louisville, putting Richlands immediately on a through line, will give an impetus to the prosperity of the town sufficient to throw it ahead of all competitors, and the attention of investors is called to real estate here as giving greater promise than any town in Southwest Virginia.

A PROMINENT CITIZEN GONE.

Mr. A. McD. Smith Dies of Heart Disease in Vinton Sunday Night.

Mr. A. McD. Smith, one of the oldest, wealthiest and most prominent citizens of Vinton, died at his home Sunday night about 11 o'clock of heart disease. He was apparently well up to the time of his death, having retired at his usual hour. About 11 o'clock he was heard to utter a groan and expired immediately. Dr. Garthright was immediately summoned and pronounced heart disease to be the cause of death.

Mr. Smith was one of the oldest citizens of this section and worked at the saddler's trade in Big Lick and Roanoke. He inherited a large tract of land lying between Roanoke and Vinton, and since the boom made a handsome fortune from the sale of his property.

He was sixty-seven years of age and a member of St. John's Episcopal Church, of this city. He stood high as a Mason. He was a Knight Templar and sword-bearer of Bayard Commandery at the time of his death. His funeral will be attended with Masonic honors.

Mr. Smith leaves a wife and three children, J. D. Smith a lawyer of this city, Jas. Smith, of Missouri, and Mrs. Mack Booth, who was married a few days ago. He has a brother in Missouri, who, with his son, has been telegraphed for. As soon as these are heard from the time of the funeral will be announced.

KILLED IN A CRASH.

A Peculiar Accident, Which Results Fatally to Charles Ross.

Charles Ross, a negro brakeman on the Norfolk and Western, was killed yesterday morning, about 6 o'clock, at the West End yards.

A car had been shifted off on a switch, but had not cleared the track. Ross was sitting on the corner of the tender of a yard engine that was being run backwards toward the car, which was partly on the switch and partly on the main track.

The engine struck the car with considerable force, and the negro was caught between them and killed instantly. His body was terribly bruised and one leg was crushed to a jelly. Ross was on the corner of the engine, which struck the car first, and George Edwards was on the other. Edwards was injured, but not seriously. The remains of Ross have been sent to his home at Huntington, W. Va.

Y. M. C. A. ANNUAL MEETING.

The Election of Officers and Transaction of General Business Set for To-night.

The members of the Young Men's Christian Association and those desiring to join are requested to meet in the rooms of the association, over the ROANOKE TIMES office, this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock for the election of officers and the transaction of other important business.

The association desires to keep pace with the rapid development of our city, and to do this it is important that the young men and the business community generally take hold and push the organization to a successful issue.

Visitors to the fair are cordially invited to call at the spacious warehouses of the Hobbie Music Co., Lynchburg, Va., and examine the largest stock of Pianos and Organs to be found in the South. They also carry a choice line of small instruments. Lowest prices and easy terms guaranteed.

The Southern Finance Company.

The Southern Finance Company, whose advertisement appears in another column, is a strong organization, and are worthy of confidence. Its object, as stated, is to invest combined capital in Southwest Virginia, in the Shenandoah Valley, and other rapidly-developing sections of the State, embracing the growing towns of Roanoke, Radford, Salem, Danville, Lynchburg, Buchanan, Bedford City, Buena Vista, Glasgow, Waynesboro, Basic City. The stock is divided into shares of the par value of one hundred dollars each, but assessable only to the amount of $52.00 on each share.

As the Company points out, the phenomenal development in Virginia presents unrivaled opportunities for safe investment and large and quick returns. Capital can nowhere earn surer or more speedy profits than here, whether in town property, mineral lands, stocks, or securities. Large fortunes have been legitimately and quickly acquired by investors, both by individual effort and especially by combined capital.

Music pupils will do well to call at 218 Church street.
